Blood Moons: Decoding The Imminent Heavenly Signs

Synopsis

"The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come." Joel 2:31 From the beginning, in Genesis, God declared He specifically created the sun and the moon to be used for signs. These heavenly bodies would be used as signals of coming dramatic historical events when the Creator of the universe would intersect with human history. But how do we unlock the code to interpret the signals? The key is found in the riveting new book, Blood Moons by Pastor Mark Biltz. In 2007 Pastor Biltz first discovered the correlation between when blood moons fell on feast days and key historical world events. He found the divine link between prophecy, heavenly signs, historical events, and when they intersect. Throughout history God, the Master Timekeeper, has used the heavenly bodies to communicate to us when significant events will happen. If you want to understand the timing of the Lord, you have to understand the seasons of the Lord, the feasts of the Lord, and the calendar of the Lord. What are the feasts days? What is the difference between the biblical calendar and the one we use today? Why should you be concerned about eclipses in the sky? In Blood Moons Pastor Biltz answers these questions and more. He explains the importance of these biblical celebrations and milestones and shows how you too can be aware of the signs of things to come.

Mark Biltz, bestselling author of Blood Moons: Decoding the Imminent Heavenly Signs and founder of El Shaddai Ministries, is a well-known commentator on the feasts of the Lord who has spoken in South Africa, South Korea, Singapore, Israel, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, Canada and throughout the United States. He has been interviewed by FOX television, appeared on the Sid Roth television broadcast, the Jim Bakker Show, the Jewish Voice, as well as on Prophecy in the News, and he was the first to discover the blood moon prophecies. Pastor Mark lives in Bonney Lake, Washington. Joseph Farah is editor, founder and CEO of WorldNetDaily.com, the internet's largest independent news site. He's a veteran newspaper editor, having run the Sacramento Union and the news department of the LA Herald Examiner. In 1996 he founded WorldNetDaily.com, an independent news website committed to investigating government waste, fraud and abuse. WND.com attracts over 8 million unique visitors a month.

I must admit I started this book with a bit of hesitation. Though I think the subject matter is worthy of investigation, it seems that often these type of topics get undermined by hype. Reassuringly, Pastor Mark Biltz's book, Blood Moons: Decoding the Imminent Heavenly Signs does not fall into that category. The book was an intelligent and reasoned look at the subject by an enthusiastic Berean who sees the evidence he discovered as one (of the many) signs which point to the soon return of Yeshua. In Revelation 19:10 it says that, "...the testimony of Yeshua/Jesus is the spirit of prophecy." One of my personal tests when reading books on Bible prophecy is to see if the "spirit" of the book testifies to Yeshua as the Messiah promised in the Scripture. To me, if the main focus of the book is not pointing me towards the Messiah then no matter how interesting or exciting the information, I consider it suspect. After reading Blood Moons I think you will find, like me, that Pastor Biltz is opening the pages of the Scripture with wonderful insights and at every opportunity pointing you towards Yeshua the Messiah. Some of the highlights of the book were: *The Hebrew word pictures. *The Divine appointments: Pastor Biltz's explanation of the Biblical feast days in light of Yeshua's 1st and 2nd coming is one of the best parts of the book. *A Biblical reckoning of time. (i.e. the Biblical calendar is based upon lunar/solar cycles) *The eclipse events as they relate to the Biblical calendar. (groundbreaking research) *The importance of watching for Yeshua's return When reading this book you will see the hand of YHWH at work in reconciling mankind through Yeshua. I loved the author's explanation of the priestly courses showing how Yeshua would have been born in the 7th month during the Feast of Tabernacles. How it confirms the word of John where it states that Yeshua became flesh and "dwelt" or tabernacled with mankind. Adding further credibility to the Pastor Biltz's argument is the fact that the 13/14th priestly courses served during the 7th month. Their names were Huppah (Canopy) & Jeshebeab (Dwelling of the father). Now how awesome is that! "...and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us." Matt.

1:23 When Pastor Biltz talked about the Biblical calendar being a billboard in the heavens I couldn't help but think of the lunar cycle the visible light of which has waxed and waned for 13/14 days every month for thousands of years.*How in one of those amazing "coincidences" in the Scripture the lineage of Matthew 1 shows Yeshua as the 13th generation, by implication His resurrection making him the 14th as well.*How Luke 1 shows Yeshua's birth taking place during the 13/14th priestly course.*How Isaac, as a symbol of Yeshua, was to be offered as a "burnt" offering, the "burnt" offerings during the Feast of Tabernacles being arranged in multiples of 13/14.*How Paul in Eph. 2:13-14 talks about Yeshua's blood breaking down the "middle wall of partition" between Jews and Gentiles. How that wall during the life of Yeshua was accessed by 14 steps and entry to the temple was granted by one of 13 gates. In summary I think the Blood Moons: Decoding the Imminent Heavenly Signs and the research it represents will be looked back upon as one of those catalysts which will have a defining impact on Bible prophecy as we move into the last days before the Messiah returns. I would recommend you get the book, read it, and then open your Bible as a Berean and "see if these things be so." Truly, "The Heavens declare the glory of God..."

The authors enthusiasm for his discoveries and conclusions are extremely contagious, yet it is a glorious affliction, for he has a wonderful easygoing arm around the shoulder writing style that almost instantly draws you into his realm while putting you at ease. Reading his book has brought back distant memories of a long ago teacher, who although I initially had no interest whatsoever in what she was teaching, converted me by her excitement and sheer joy in the subject matter. Although attending Bible college and being a Christian for almost 50 years, I am sad to say that not one person I ever set under ever took the time to teach on the relevance of the Jewish feasts and festivals. And of course before Mark's discoveries no one ever took the time to see a parallel between these celebrations, eclipses, blood moons and super blood moons. Before reading this book I was always somewhat interested but never saw the importance of the Jewish calendar, now I plan on purchasing one. In the past I have studied prophecy but never from a Jewish mindset, so reading this book has given me fresh revelation. Although I love my precious Savior, I believe that this book will take that love to a higher level, because to see Yahshua with a greater revelation can only make that passion more intense. In closing I highly recommend this book, for not only does it make you aware of the signs that God has placed in the heavens, but shows you how to read them.

Richard L. Evans once stated that "We can only know the truth if we are unafraid of it." or words to that effect. Apparently most Christians today are afraid of knowing the truth about the times we are living in. All that the majority can say with regard to the promised return of the Messiah is that "No one knows the day or the hour." Christ himself said that, but in the very same passage (Matthew 24) He gave them the parable of the fig tree, and told them (his apostles) in verse 33 "So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things [the various signs - including blood moons and the darkening of the sun], know that it is near, even at the doors." Elsewhere he chided the Pharisees for knowing the signs of the weather, but not the signs of the times. In other words, He was telling them how foolish they were to not watch for and discern them. So while Christians seem to have heard the fact that we cannot know "the day or the hour," we are specifically admonished by the Lord himself to watch for and know the signs of His coming. This book, like The Harbinger and The Shimetah, by Jonathan Cahn, documents some of the key signs, and places them in the context of our day. While I did not agree with (or understand) everything that Pastor Biltz presented, and felt that his explanations were at times unclear, the overall documentation of the facts, and how they fit in with the holy days established by God himself, sheds critical light on the key signs of the blood moons and solar eclipses. A must-read for all who are not afraid of the truth, along with The Harbinger and The Shimetah, by Jonathan Cahn. Tom Ballantyne - Author of Oh Really, O'Reilly! and Uncommon Sense, Apparently!

Blood Moons, Decoding the Imminent Heavenly Signs, written by Mark Biltz tells in a forcible and clearly understandable book telling not only the background of Biblical feasts, but also the prophetic meaning of these historic events to both Israelis and Gentiles. His thorough research was superb. Heretofore, I knew about the Jewish calendar, but was not familiar with how it corresponded to their Levitical laws or to our current calendar. I found it extremely interesting to study its importance in the whole scheme of Biblical and future events. I appreciate too, that Mr. Biltz did not try to set dates for Christ's return. Instead, he emphasized the heavenly signs of which we, as believers, should be aware. Any serious student of God's Word will find this book invaluable.
