Vincent Virga is a writer and picture editor. He is the coauthor, with the Library of Congress, of Cartographia: Mapping Civilizations (Little, Brown, 2007), The American Civil War: 365 Days (Abrams, 2006), and Eyes of the Nation: A Visual History of the United States with Alan Brinkley (Knopf, 1997), which was a main selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club and the History Book Club. He's a native New Yorker who also lives in Washington, D.C.

I choose this rating because it was everything I hoped it would be. I bought this collection as a gift for a map lover. The maps can be taken out easily and framed if you wish. There is even a small write up on each map in the back of the book.. Very interesting. The only thing I would have liked better is if one of the old maps had all the street names on it.

Good product, fast delivery.

It is a great book of maps. I am very pleased with this purchase and would recommend it. The maps are beautiful and can be framed.

very interesting and informative book

I would have liked some closeup/enlarged areas so I could read it better. I shared it with a friend who grew up in Brooklyn - he loved it!

Nice

I have used a bunch of these to frame for my house, and the cardstock is thick and nice. i've shared them with family and friends as gifts too!

Thanks great product !!
