Borch uses a patented lamination process to cross the folds of the map, making it easier to read and even easier to refold. The tough but non-toxic lamination material degrades to oxygen and water in a landfill environment. Before then, the map is practically indestructible in your backpack or suit coat pocket, and can even be written on temporarily with dry-erase markers.

This map covers more areas of Brussels than any of the maps that come with travel guide books. One area in particular is the Midi train station in the southern part of the city, which is the hub for Eurostar and Thalys trains. Get this map if you plan on going to/from Midi station.

Borch maps are my favorites. I like the format especially the "big picture" and then the enlarged "close up" of the central city.

Satisfying for tourists.
