A Sand County Almanac And Sketches Here And There - American Museum Of Natural History Special Members' Edition

Synopsis

This special edition of the highly acclaimed A Sand County Almanac commemorates the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Aldo Leopold, one of the foremost conservationists of our century. First published in 1949 and praised in The New York Times Book Review as "full of beauty and vigor and bite," A Sand County Almanac combines some of the finest nature writing since Thoreau with an outspoken and highly ethical regard for America's relationship to the land.

A great piece of nature writing and a fundamental early work of the environmental movement. Gorgeous blend of lyrical description, personal chronicle, imaginative response, sober reflection on reality.

Whether an environmentalist, conservationist . . . or not, this book is a must read for anyone interested in knowing the impetus behind and origins of the conservation movement and one of its earliest champions. Written in clear and evocative prose, SCA belongs to the genre of Desert

Solitaire and Abstract Wild.

Good book

Just what I expected, good read, arrived very soon and packed well.

Recommended reading for a lot of urbanites holed up in decaying lifeless built up concrete castles.

Any outdoor person can appreciate the wisdom offered here. Not much "preaching", learn by shared observations. Even more relevant today!

A classic and so perceptive of today's environmental problems - written in 1949
