Ashley EvansonÂ lives in San Francisco with her husband and two children.

Daughter's 2nd favorite book. One Cable Car, ding ding Two Dragons guarding Chinatown gate! Three Carousel horses Four Loaves of Boudin Sourdough! Five Clouds behind the Golden Gate Bridge! Six Sailboats sailing! Seven Houses in a row! Eight Sea Lions at pier 39! NINE GIANTS READY FOR THE GAME, PLAY BALL! (they said batter up, but baseball and SF Giants fans will know PLAY BALL is the phrase you yell) Ten Swans swimming at the palace of fine arts.

What a refreshing take on the traditional counting book this is! Evanson takes baby to San Francisco via a colorful board book. The colorful artwork, which is a bit quirky and quite refreshing, will catch the eye. The text has an enchanting lilt to it which will hold the ear. Love the Hello, World series!

Got this sweet little board book for my granddaughter who was born in the City. I gave it a four rather than a five, because the colors are a bit drab. Otherwise, I like it a lot and so does my baby granddaughter.

Love this book. Ended up buying the evoke collection. My daughter loves them she will reach for these books before she reaches for toys every single time

Such a darling little book! I purchased for my daughter to introduce her to the city before our upcoming trip. After only a couple times of reading through the book, she is starting to recognize the landmarks...and is learning to count as well! The colorful, quirky illustrations draw you in immediately. This charming little nugget has now earned a top slot in our nightly bedtime reading.

I LOVE this book! I try to get a new children's book for my daughter every time we go somewhere new or exciting, and I was on the hunt for a San Francisco book since we just moved to the Bay Area. I was so happy to find this one! The illustrations keep my 1 year old daughters attention and I love how she can be more aware of all the fun stuff around her as she gets older and understands more.

Adorable illustrations. Was purchased for a baby shower and the mom absolutely loved it.

Really beautiful illustrations. Great board book for teaching about numbers and sharing the story of one of my favorite cities!
